

Shadow Chancellor George Osborne visits Sphere Medical

George Osborne was in Cambridge on Friday 3 November visiting a small number of firms in the area, including Sphere Medical, where he looked at our new office, laboratory and meeting space with Richard Lambert, new Director General the CBI.

During his visit Dr Stuart Hendry, CEO of Sphere Medical, explained how Sphere's chip will revolutionise the way blood and drug levels are tested in hospitals.

The visit was reported in the Cambridge Evening News on Monday 7 November.
